

NILS STOLZLECHNER

Born on May 5, 1962 Nils is an Austrian-born American former ski jumper.

1982 Debut at FIS Nordic World Ski Championship placing 44th in the individual normal hill, 54th in the individual large hill and 5th in the team large hill (Jeff Hastings, Reed Zuehlke and John Broman)

Mar 1983 12th place at the FIS Ski Jumping World Cup in Planica scoring World Cup points

Jan 1985 8th place on the normal hill in Cortina d'Ampexzo; highest individual placing of his career. At end of 1984-1985 season he had reached a joint 49th place.

1985 Member of the US Ski Jumping Team at the FIS Nordic World Ski Championships in Seefeld Tirol reaching 25th on the normal hill and 5th in the team (Mark Konopacke, Rick Mewborn and Mike Holland).

The two 5th place finishes for the US Team, in 1982 and 1985, were the best team results for the US Ski Jumping Team ever.

1985-1986 Participated in the Four Hills Tournament after which he retired from ski jumping. Afterward he was a professional kite surfer, and after retiring from competitive sports began a career in hotel management.