

LARRY STONE

Born on December 8, 1944 in Salibury, CT. He began jumping at the age of 8 and competed for the next 30 years.

1980-82 US Ski Team Assistant Coach

1983-2006 Eastern regional program and Junior Olympic Coach

1990-94 US Ski Team Coach

1995 Began US Women's international involvement with a World Championship (demo) event in Thunder Bay, ON

1996 Team members Lindsey Van and Molly Stone win the first Schuler Cup competition for Women, and with Berit Tomten they win the first Team Competition for Women at Garmisch, GER Schuler Cup

1996-2004, 2007-08 Coached US Women's teams at International Damenspringen COCJ events, World Juniors at St. Moritz, SUI (1998), Holmenkollen, NOR (2000), World Championships at Ramsau, AUT (demo), World Juniors at Zakopane, POL (2008)

2004 Coached US Women at Holmenkollen and first US woman in Ski Flying at Vikersund, NOR (Lindsey Van: 171 meters)

2007 US Ski Team Women's Head Coach; retired as fill-time coach

2009 World Championships at Liberec, CZE (first official Women's World Champion – Lindsey Van)